Neoen wins 14 MW of solar and wind in France

Neoen (ISIN: FR0011675362, Ticker: NEOEN), one of the world's leading and fastest-growing producers of exclusively renewable energy, is announcing that it has been awarded projects with combined capacity of 14 MW in the invitation to bid for ground-based photovoltaic plants (« CRE 4.8 - Commission de Régulation de l'Énergie ») and in the sixth call of tenders for onshore wind power capacity, both recently held by the French government. This capacity is spread across two projects wholly owned by Neoen, in accordance with its develop-to-own model.

The two successful projects are located in the French départements of Aude (11) and Yonne (89), in line with Neoen's strategy to develop projects throughout France. They are due to enter service early 2023.

Xavier Barbaro, Chairman and Chief Executive Officer of Neoen, commented: « I am proud of what we are doing here at Neoen. Our repeated success is a sign that our projects are well-orchestrated and our technology well-received. We always work hand in hand with local authorities and local partners, because to us, local anchorage is a vital element of sustainable growth. We will continue to proceed in this manner despite the pandemic. Our growth has not slowed in 2020 and we aim to carry on winning governmental tenders. »

About Neoen

Neoen is one of the world's leading and fastest growing independent producers of exclusively renewable profile energy. With a capacity of more than 3.6 GW in operation or under construction, Neoen is a high-growth company. Neoen is notably active in France, Australia, Argentina, El Salvador, Finland, Ireland, Jamaica, Mexico, Mozambique, Portugal and Zambia. In particular, Neoen operates France's most powerful solar farm (300 MWp) in Cestas, and the world's first big battery (150 MW storage capacity) in Hornsdale, Australia. Neoen is targeting at least 5 GW capacity in operation or under construction by end of 2021. Neoen (ISIN Code: FR0011675362, ticker: NEOEN) is listed in Compartment A of the regulated market of Euronext Paris.
